Constitution Day celebrated at District Prison

RAICHUR, DHNS

Learning is very important in everyone's life to know the difference between right and wrong things and it is a never-ending process, said Additional Superintendent of Police Haribabu.

He noted this while speaking after inaugurating the 'Constitution Day', jointly organised by District Administration, Zilla Panchayat, District Lok Shikshan Samiti, District Prison and Reformation Centre at District Prison in the City on Tuesday.

He said, there will be an equal opportunity to solve every problem. However, people generally commit mistakes and end up in prisons. There are a lot more things one need to learn in prisons too. The illiterate inmates can learn to read and write, that will further help them to reform themselves, he added.

The prisoners should learn to make changes in their attitude, inculcate good habits and determine to lead their lives as good citizens, he advised.

Presiding over the programme, District Prison and Reformation Centre Superintendent B R Andhani said, there is an aim to form a group of ten educated people to help the illiterates for their studies in the jail.

As knowledge is the only power which can reform a person mentally and help them live an ideal life in the society, once after releasing from the prison, he opined.

District Adult Education Officer G Mallikarjun said, every person in the society should strive hard to live a respectful life by obtaining a good education. There is no age limit for a person to learn, hence, one should be educated and knowledgeable, he said.

Meanwhile, teachers handbook and pamphlets to create awareness about education were released.

Public Instruction Department Subject Inspector Praveena, Adult Education District Programme Co-ordinator Yallappa Jalibenchu, Giriappa Dimmi, and prison staff were present.

'Implement Swaminathan Commission report'

YADGIR, DHNS

Office bearers of Nava Karnataka Raitha Sangha staged a protest in front of Deputy Commissioner's office in the City on Tuesday, urging the government to implement the Swaminathan Commission report and provide permanent facilities for the farmers of Kalyana Karnataka region.

They said, the farming community has been worst affected in the recent rains and flood. They have lost their properties including house, crops, land, and cattle too. They are not even getting an appropriate price for their agriculture yield. Hence, the State government should help them by distributing compensation at the earliest, they said.

The Agriculture Produce Marketing (Regulation) Act, popularly known as the APMC Act-1982 should be implemented. The illegal business of commission agents should be investigated through the Department of Intelligence. Measures should be taken to reach all the facilities of the government to the farmers through agriculture-related departments, they added.

Awareness should be created on the Debt Relief Act in rural areas. The Agriculture Price Commission should open procuring centres even before the farmers visit the centres. Rs 10,000 support price should be announced to tur. Raitha Samparka Kendra and Nada Kacheri should be opened in Naikal village, and the vacant posts in various departments should be filled following 371 J act, the protesters said.

Later, they submitted a memorandum to Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa in favour of their demands through additional deputy commissioner.

Nava Karnataka Raitha Sangha State President Dayanand Patil, B C Patil, Channareddy Gouda, and others took part in the protest.

Power disruption in Raichur tomorrow
