25 dead, 1 million affected as rain pounds China

1.6 lakh people evacuated; army deployed to rescue those trapped in inundated subways, hotels and public places

BEIJING

CHINA'S military blasted a damaged dam to divert the surging waters of a flooded river as 25 people, including 12 subway passengers, were killed when the heaviest rainfall in 1,000 years hit central Henan province, official media reports said on Wednesday.

A total of 1.24 million people were affected and 1,60,000 evacuated, state-run Global Times reported. The Army sent its troops early on Tuesday morning to a damaged dike in Yichuan county to explode it to divert the floodwater, state-run China Daily reported.

A total of 75 soldiers and soldiers of an engineering chemical defence brigade under the People's Liberation Army (PLA) Theatre Command completed the task of blasting and diverting the floodwater from the dam of Yihetan in Yichuan County at about 6 am and started follow-

Widespread damage

Body for cultural heritage warned some key heritage sites had suffered damage, including the Shaolin temple and the Longmen Grottoes, a UNESCO heritage site dating back to the fifth century. Henan is the birthplace of traditional Chinese martial arts up rescue operations, China News Network reported. The official media quoted local authorities as saying that 25 people were killed and seven others listed missing in the massive floods.

Twelve people were killed and five others injured when subway stations were hit by the floods, the report said. The victims died when their subway train was hit with rapidly rising floodwaters on Tuesday night, the Hong Kong-based South China Morning Post reported. Two people were killed when a wall collapsed.

The massive floods, described by meteorologists as a once-ina-lifetime event, has resulted in apocalyptic scenes in the provincial capital Zhengzhou, a metropolis of 12.6 million, with its public avenues and subway tunnels getting submerged with surging waters.

Videos posted on the Chinese social media showed petrified passengers trapped in subway trains clinging on to handlebars desperately waiting for help as floodwaters raised up to their necks. PTI

100 kidnapped victims freed

GUNMEN in northwest Nigeria have released 100 kidnapped victims, many of them nursing mothers and children, who had been held captive for about six weeks.

Police spokesman in Zamfara State, Mohammed Shehu, said Wednesday that the victims had been abducted from Manawa village on June 8. The government "successfully secured the unconditional release of the victims" without paying any ransom, he said. Armed gangs operate in Zamfara and other states in northwestern and north-central Nigeria. The bandits are blamed for the recent mass abductions of schoolchildren in northern Nigeria.
